Types of cookies

As part of our websites, we use the following types of cookies:

Necessary/Technical: These files are necessary for the proper functioning of the website. These files are installed in particular for the purpose of remembering login sessions or filling out forms, as well as for the purpose of remembering whether you have been informed about the use of cookies.

Functional: They remember and adapt the platform to your choices, e.g. they allow you to automatically complete the e-mail address from which you have recently logged in to the platform.

Analytical: They allow you to check the number of visits and traffic sources. With their help, we are able to determine which pages are popular and which are not. We use them to study statistics and improve the performance of our websites. As part of our websites, we use, among others, solutions from Google, Mailerchimp and Hotjar.

Marketing: They allow you to adjust the displayed advertising content to the interests of the user, not only within our portal, but also outside it. They can be installed by advertising partners. Based on the information from these files and activity on other websites, your interest profile is built.

Social media cookies: These are cookies installed by our partners to match the displayed advertising content on social media. Based on them, a profile of the user's interests is built. This way the displayed content is tailored to the individual needs of the user.
